MEN MARCH TO MAKE OUT UIC CLAIMS

Effect Of Strike Spreads In City

Chinese Leave After Soviet Rap

MOSCOW (Reuters)—China's representative and his interpreter stalked angrily away from Moscow's giant May Day parade today as Russia's new defence minister, Marshal Andrei Grechko, hit out at the Chinese for not joining in a united Communist aid program for Vietnam.

It was the second time in six months that the Chinese have staged a walkout at a parade here.

Hundreds of guests saw An Chih-yuan, the Chinese chargé d'affaires, and his interpreter push through crowds on the diplomats stand in Red Square.

The walkout today came as Grechko said that Communist victory in Vietnam would be assured if China would join other Communist states in a common aid program there.

The last Chinese walkout was Nov. 7 when the late Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, Grechko's predecessor, criticized Peking policies.

Grechko today was making his first May Day speech from atop the huge red and black Lenin mausoleum in Red Square.

Standing with him as the troops and heavy armor of Russia's military might thundered past were Chairman Leonid Brezhnev, Premier Alexei Kosygin, and President Nikolai Podgorny.

Despite China's failure to join in a common aid program in Vietnam, Grechko said Russia and other Communist nations "will continue to fight persistently to curb the warmongers and render active and many-sided assistance to the heroic Vietnamese people."

He attacked the United States as the "main aggressive force" in the world and accused West Germany of seeking revenge for Germany's defeat in the Second World War.

Workers throughout the Eastern Hemisphere and in parts of Latin America celebrated labor's traditional day. Although Labor Day is celebrated in September in Canada and the United States, American groups held loyalty marches Saturday in cities from Newport, Ore., to New York.

CUPE Employees Stay Away From 'Yards' And City Hall

The Canadian Union of Public Employees, Local 338, walked off their jobs this morning at the Kelowna Seaplane base, bringing the city's operations to a halt. The workers picketed the base until 9:30 a.m. and then proceeded to the Unemployment Insurance Commission office.

City engineer E. F. Lawrence said the workers who did not cross the information picket line at the base have been laid off until further notice and the city is prepared to give them their unemployment insurance books.

"This is an indication to the city they are quitting," said Mr. Lawrence.

The incident has curtailed all city work crew projects including street maintenance and other routine tasks.

The men, numbering about 65, paused briefly in front of the city hall and then proceeded to the Unemployment Insurance Commission office.

G. E. Henderson, UIC manager here, said they picked up application forms for unemployment insurance.

"We will deal with the applications for unemployment benefits when they are submitted to this office," he said.

Picketers continue in front of city hall today. Signs carried by striking electrical workers read, "This is a local picket. Please do not cross the picket line. Thanks for your support."

CUPE employees at the city hall did go to work this morning.

The CUPE employees at the seaplane base are acting in sympathy with the 13 city electrical employees who are striking for higher wages and a shorter work week. They did not go to work today because of inadequate washroom facilities at the base.

The city had moved to the base for operation of city trucks and equipment in anticipation of a picket line at the city yard.

Labor Minister Peterson announced Friday he does not intend to intervene yet in the West Kootenay and Okanagan power strike.

Expo Officials Elated As Crowds Flock In

MONTREAL (CP)—Attendance at Expo 67 during its first three days is officially estimated at about 1,500,000 and the fair's management is expressing elation.

Expo authorities said Sunday night that attendance Sunday had been 569,500 with some persons still reported on the site and not included in the figure as of midnight.

Officials said that on Thursday night, 72,000 non-employees had visited the fairgrounds as possessors of special tickets allowing them in within several hours of that day's formal inaugural ceremonies.

The general public, under the time span set down by international rules for the fair, was allowed in, beginning Friday. That day saw 407,500 persons come to the fair.

Another 423,000 flowed in Saturday and then came the Sunday crush.

Robert Shaw, Expo's deputy commissioner-general, said 710,000 was the record for daily attendance at the 1958 world's fair in Brussels.

The highest daily attendance figure for the 1964-65 world's fair at New York was understood to be about 446,000.

The crowds going to and from the site of the fair on the St. Lawrence River caused crushes in at least one Montreal subway station Sunday.

A section of the station had to be shut down for 17 minutes to allow a drain-off of passengers and to avoid public and possible injuries.

Temperatures at the Expo reached 60 degrees Sunday. This was the warmest since the fair opened. Both Saturday and Friday were marred by chilly breezes.

Property Reform In Greece

ATHENS (CP)—Greece's new military government ordered today that all municipally-owned land should be distributed among landless farmers and that all employers should pay Easter bonuses to workers without delay.

The orders, issued by Brig. Siliakos Patakos, interior minister and one of the three army strongmen in the cabinet, was the latest of a series of edicts calculated to promote popularity for the new regime.

The instruction to employers said the customary Easter bonus of half a month's salary must be paid no matter what a company's financial straits may be. Normally, it is common to postpone payment till later in the year.

One publisher who protested he could not afford the bonus has been threatened with trial by court martial. He is Ioannis Papageorgiou, publisher of the newspaper Athenaki.

Family Of 5 Shot To Death

MECHANICVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—The pyramided bodies of a father, mother and their three children were found shot to death Sunday in the bedrooms of their frame house in nearby Clifton Park.

State police said initial indications were that one member of the family had committed four homicides and a suicide but added they could not discount the possibility of an outside intruder.

Troopers identified the dead as Roy Bell, 33, his wife, Marie, 31, a son Roy Jr., 13, and two daughters, Cheryl, 10, and Lynn, 6.

State Police Capt. S. A. Chieco said the bodies were found in all three bedrooms of the two-story rural home and could have been there since Friday, the last time any member of the family may have been seen.

Grounded Ship 'A Total Loss'

HALIFAX (CP)—The Liberian freighter Costarlean Trader, hung on a rocky ledge near the approaches to Halifax harbor, appears headed for scrapping.

The 4,100-ton freighter, driven on the rocks by high winds and heavy seas Friday, was declared a total loss by a salvage official Sunday.

A breakdown in apparatus at the Man and his Health pavilion was ended Sunday after a technician flown in from Germany joined forces with local experts to repair a damaged lens and faulty synchronization machinery.

British Skipper Questioned In Audacious Bid To Flee Law

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (Reuters)—Bernard (Bunny) Newton, 40, skipper of the British trawler Brandur, faced police questioning today over his audacious bid to escape with his ship from custody here and sail for Britain.

Newton has been in jail here since he and his 23-man crew were recaptured 11½ hours after they slipped out of Reykjavik harbor Saturday morning.

Sunday, Judge Armann Kristinsson ruled that the six-foot 225-pound skipper should be kept in custody for the length of the case, or 30 days.

A police commissioner took evidence from two Icelandic policemen who were on board when the Brandur escaped, and was to question Newton today.

But the court case will not proceed until Tuesday because May Day is a national holiday in Iceland.

The 760-ton Brandur, with 140,000 pounds of fish aboard, was first taken into custody here Tuesday after it was alleged to have fished illegally inside Iceland's 12-mile limit.

Storms Subside—Now Flooding Feared

LETHBRIDGE (CP)—Main highways were plowed open of snow for single-lane traffic and transportation schedules approached near-normal today in storm-stricken south Alberta.

But the fear of flooding increased when a long-range weather forecast indicated 40-degree melting weather today and the possibility of snow and rain Tuesday and Wednesday.

More than three feet of soggy snow fell in two days, bringing the total April fall in the Lethbridge area to a record 61.7 inches. It plugged highways with 10-foot drifts thrown up by 50-mile-an-hour winds.

After a snow-free day of sun and light breezes Sunday, traffic moved slowly on main

U.K. Bandits Get $2.25 Million

LONDON (AP)—Bandits overpowered the crew of an armored car in London today and got away with gold bullion estimated to be worth $2,500,000 ($2,500,000), a Scotland Yard spokesman said. He said the gold in the May Day robbery was in 140 ingots.

The armored vehicle was hijacked in the Islington district of north London.

Police said the van's three-man crew were overpowered by the gang who then drove it away.

Their vehicle was later found abandoned in Kentish town, about four miles away with the crew tied up in the back.

The daring robbery was one of the biggest in Britain since the £2,500,000 ($7,500,000) Great Train Robbery in 1963.

One member of the van's crew was taken to London's Middlesex Hospital with head and chest injuries.

The other two were taken to Moorfields Eye Hospital in London. Police said the gang used ammonia in the attack and beat up one of the men.

The crew was found trussed up after passers-by heard noises from inside the van.

Police said the gold was en route to the London banking firm of N. M. Rothschild and Sons.

Girl, 10, Not Found

BURLINGTON, Ont. (CP)—A mass search by 18,000 persons failed to turn up any trace of a missing 10-year-old girl Sunday, but police are hopeful publication of a composite sketch of a suspected abductor will provide a new lead.

The girl, Marianne Schuett of nearby Kilbride, Ont., has been missing since last Thursday when she was seen getting into a late model, foreign-made station wagon outside her school.

The searchers, volunteers and police, covered a 400-square-mile area. The mass search will be discontinued today, with only police combing the swampy Kilbride area.

The only trace of the missing girl uncovered so far was a blue running shoe, found on a highway north of Milton Friday and identified as belonging to the missing girl.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Schuett, have offered to sell their home to raise ransom for her safe return.

U.K. Has Secret Conditions In Bid For Entry Into ECM

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Wilson's cabinet agreed Sunday that Britain should try again to join the European Common Market, but it set conditions apparently to assure protection of its trading interests.

The conditions were kept secret. They were part of a compromise agreement reached at an eight-hour meeting at Chequers, the prime minister's official country home, and were negotiated by a free hand to negotiate Britain's entry into the six-nation customs union.

But seven or eight of the 21 cabinet ministers are known to oppose British entry. They stressed the economic risks and tried to attach conditions that might cripple British negotiations at Common Market headquarters in Brussels.

Officials said the compromise forestalled, at least for now, any resignations by these ministers.

Britain tried to join the Common Market in 1963, but its application was vetoed by French President de Gaulle. Continental supporters of the British candidacy have urged Wilson to join as quickly as possible then negotiate the best possible deal from the inside. The critics in Britain want to arrange safeguards before they agree to membership.

Among major problems worrying the cabinet critics are the Common Market's agricultural system and its higher food prices; the future of New Zealand dairy produce and West Indian sugar, which long have been dependent on sales to Britain; the future of the British pound; the length of the transition period to cushion the change in industry and the British welfare state apparatus and the free movement of workers.

12 Killed By Twister

WASECA, Minn. (AP)—The tornado death toll stood at 12 today, with more than 100 injured, as rescue workers shifted through the splintered rubble of homes smashed by tornadoes at Waseca and Albert and Albert Lea, two of the hardest hit communities in Sunday night's rash of twisters.

Possibly a half-dozen tornadoes smashed across a 50-mile-wide area of southern Minnesota around the dinner hour Sunday night, causing property damage in the millions of dollars to eight communities and numerous farms.

"It was horrible," said Mrs. Archie Drahelm of Waseca. "We were sitting at the dinner table eating when the picture window hit me and my husband right in the face. There was no warning. There was this terrible rain falling and all of a sudden I was diving along the floor with glass all around me."

She and her husband were treated for cuts at hospital and released.

GREEK DICTATORS: THEY COME AND GO

A Cautious, Quiet Debate Begins

ATHENS (AP)—In the second week after its coup, the army holds Greece under a dictatorship depriving an intensely political people of normal rights, and outwardly the Greeks seem to have adjusted.

Dictators have come and gone before in Greece.

But, cautiously and quietly, the people now are beginning to debate the main questions: What was the role of 26-year-old King Constantine in the coup and what is his role now? How long will military rule last and what will come next?

Brig. Stylianos Patacos, interior minister in the new government, said Saturday the regime plans "creation of a new Greek state based on a re-written constitution covering all modern demands."

But he did not elaborate.

Some of the mystery surrounding the king's conduct is slowly clearing away.

The army admitted in a statement by one of the triumvirate of officers who planned and led the coup that the king was not consulted or informed in advance.

Subsequently, however, he ratified it with several acts.

As pieced together from official statements and unofficial say Constantine still has not diplomatic and government sources, the course of events that led Constantine from ignorance to stunned awareness and finally to partnership is as follows:

The army moved fast in the early hours of Friday, April 21. By dawn, it was in complete control of major cities, highways, communications and public buildings.

Constantine got the first word at his suburban Tatoi Palace after the coup was well under way. At about 2.30 a.m., while he was still trying to get the facts, the army announced the coup was carried out in his name, by royal proclamation.

In mid - morning the king drove to army headquarters in Athens. There he met in a bitter four - hour dispute with the coup's leaders. They sought his signature on the decree already proclaimed in his name.

The young monarch refused, leaving the army in the position of acting without orders of their commander-in-chief, betraying the constitutions and falsifying a royal proclamation.

This could prove of considerable interest to any future tribunal.

First-class diplomatic sources

He has, however, endorsed the regime in other ways—by witnessing the swearing in of the new government, by attending a cabinet meeting and by being photographed with his new ministers.

Nonetheless, the king's refusal to sign the original decree may have given him some leverage with the army group and it may help in obtaining future concessions.

It might one day save his throne, which seemed to teeter dangerously a week ago but seems secure now — for the present.

Washington, London and a number of other governments, realizing the military setup is firmly established and in control, have gone along with the new regime reluctantly.

Many foreign diplomats—and some Greeks who could figure out what went on during a news blackout — believe Constantine followed the only course open to him.

He might have tried to flee abroad but his chances of succeeding were slim. His own aides were detained in the coup.

He might have fled to the mountains and tried to organize resistance. But any thought of igniting a civil war could not have been attractive.

He might have sat at home, but either the pressure was too great or he felt he could play a moderating role and help restore an elected government; in his only statement so far he said this was his fervent wish.

When can this be done? Col. George Papadopoulos, one of the ruling military triumvirate, told a press conference: "Don't ask me to be a prophet."

Few others in Athens are willing to prophesy either—except that it is unlikely to be soon.

As most diplomats see it, the army is the only real power element in Greece.

So far, the well-informed say, there hasn't been the slightest hint of a counter-coup and the prospects for one diminish daily.

Politicians of all political parties have been silenced. A large number of Communists—5,000, says the military government—are in detention and the most troublesome are likely to stay there.

And despite its illegal seizure of power, the regime undoubtedly has a considerable measure of support among the 8,000,000 homeland Greeks.

Squall Of Trading Follows News That Uranium Runs Low

By DOUGLAS ADAMSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Uranium moved quickly to centre stage late this week as prices rode on Canadian stock exchanges.

A squall of trading followed an announcement by J. van Backstrom of South Africa's Atomic Energy Board that a world shortage of uranium is imminent and known deposits probably will not produce sufficient to keep the world price at its present level of $8 a pound beyond 1975.

Denison rose 3 1/2 to 68, Roman Corp., whose chief assets is Denison shares, moved ahead 1/2 to 18 1/2, Rio Algon 1 1/2 to 31 1/2, Preston, which holds a 44-per-cent interest in Rio Algon, was up 1/2 to 18 1/2, Stanrock 1 1/2 to 3.50 and Kerr-Addison 1/2 to 12.

ITL Industries was the favorite of the industrial list, rising 8 to a 1967 high of 28. The stock sold in January at 11 1/2 and moved steadily upward to close at 20 April 21.

Analysts said Monday one reason for the sudden rise was speculation that a major U.S. pharmaceutical company would adopt a "child-proof" cap manufactured and sold by ITL's Reflex Division. A director of ITL denied any agreement was imminent.

Magna Electronics moved up sharply early in the week on rumor of a takeover bid. A company representative said there were no grounds for such speculation. The stock closed the week up 1/2 to a 1967 high of 19 1/2.

Moore Corp. advanced 1/2 to 108 after reaching a 1967 high of 112 following a report of a 16.2-per-cent increase in profits and a 13.9-per-cent rise in sales for the first quarter of 1967 compared with the same period in 1966. Company President W. H. Brown also forecast a favorable outlook for 1967.

Interprovincial Pipe Line gained 3 1/2 to 106 1/2 after reaching a 1967 high of 110 following permission from Parliament to increase authorized capital and split stock five-for-one.

Clean-Up Goes Ahead In Rutland

RUTLAND — The monthly meeting of the Rutland Park Society, held in the Park hall this week, discussed plans for the coming May Day celebrations to be held May 21-22 at the Centennial Park, Clarence Malach presiding.

The meeting approved the painting of the park hall exterior, and the stage that is used for the May Day Queen ceremonies, as a part of the "paint-up clean-up for Centennial Year" program.

Progress on the practices for the maypole dancing has been delayed, the meeting was advised, due to so much inclement weather. Work is in progress toward making the new caretaker's house habitable, and a caretaker has been engaged, Mr. Murray Barber, who with his wife will occupy the cottage shortly.

The Rutland Rovers have already commenced renovation of the softball field and facilities, and a softball tournament will again be the major sports attraction. The Minor Baseball Association was not represented at the meeting but it is understood that a Little League game may be part of the weekend program. The Girl Guides have a Centennial project, the renovation of the flagpole at the park, which they plan to lower, and to sand and repaint by May Day.

Plans for the parade are going ahead, and the Centennial theme is to be stressed as much as possible in the various floats to be entered by merchants and organizations.

The meeting adjourned, to meet again on May 9 to complete plans for May Day.

Sole Inmate Of Spandau, Hess Claims He's Well

BERLIN (AP)—Rudolf Hess, former deputy to Adolf Hitler and the last remaining prisoner in West Berlin's big Spandau war crimes prison, claims that he is mentally and physically sound.

"He said that except for some stomach troubles he has had over the years, he is totally healthy," Alfred Seidl, lawyer for the onetime Nazi leader, told reporters after a visit with Hess.

It was the fourth visit by Seidl since Hess was sentenced in 1946 to life in prison by the Nuernberg war crimes tribunal. Hess, 73 three days ago, often has been reported suffering from mental illness.

"He asked me specifically to counter any newspaper or press reports that he is mentally sick," Seidl said.

"From the four meetings with him (the first after Nuernberg was in November, 1944), I could not determine the slightest criterion to prove that he was not mentally healthy."

"He looked good and his face had good color."

TELLS OF DEBATE

Seidl said he spent most of the last visit telling Hess about a debate in the British House of Lords Feb. 9.

The debate concerned Hess, and Lord Chalfont, British disarmament minister, stressed his government's view that Hess should be freed on humane grounds.

The United States and France also have indicated they would be willing to see him released. Only the Russians have refused.

The Western allies have proposed cutting down the prison area that houses Hess to reduce the cost of keeping just one man in a prison built to hold 600. The Russians have agreed to this in principle. The West German government bears the cost of running Spandau, about $100,000 a year, as war reparations.

Since Spandau is under four-power control it would take unanimous agreement by the wartime Allies to release Hess.

WON'T SEE FAMILY

There was no indication, Seidl said, that Hess had changed his decision against having his family visit him while he is still in prison.

Hess has not seen his wife or son since he took off in a Messerschmidt fighter plane and parachuted into Britain in May, 1941, claiming he wanted to tell the British to make peace with Nazi Germany.

Hess, taken into custody by Britain, was later sentenced at Nuernberg for plotting against the peace and for planning, in-

Legion Convention Will Open Sunday

District Forest Fire Season Begins Today

City of Kelowna residents are reminded to use consideration when burning rubbish on their property.

Fire Chief Charles Pettman says rubbish fires seldom get out of control in this area, that most complaints come from neighbors objecting to the smoke from a smouldering fire.

"All complaints are checked and a smoke nuisance fire will be extinguished," the fire chief said.

"Don't light a fire when your neighbor has a wash on the line," he advised.

There is no such thing as an open or closed season for fires in the city. Permits are required at all times. They are of two types, one for burning in incinerators, good for a year, and one for open fires, good for the date issued.

The permits may be obtained free at the fire hall. Fires must be kept under supervision. A hose or water buckets should be kept nearby. Fires may be lit at 8 a.m. and must be extinguished by 6 p.m.

Fires should be 15 feet from any combustible material, such as a fence or buildings. Wet materials cause excess smoke and smouldering.

Fire permits are required for burning in the district starting today. The closed season runs to Oct. 31. The fire permits in the district are of two types, a campfire permit and a burning permit. They may be obtained without cost at the ranger station, 1211 Ellis St.

In Westbank and Winfield, residents may obtain permits from their fire chief.

The Kelowna ranger district extends from Peachland Creek in the south to Winfield, east to the Kettle River and west to Pennask Lake. Lookouts are manned as soon as the weather warms.

Forest Ranger Bert Hewlett says the loss due to forest fires has been low in this district for several years and with a little precaution the record could continue.

He cautioned farmers and orchardists to consider the weather before lighting brush fires. Grass fires spread more rapidly in some areas than others.

Residents of rural areas do not need a permit for burning in an incinerator, if the incinerator has a screen cover.

Pearson Seeks Whitewash Of Own Law Breaking

Prime Minister Pearson has stated that the government will sponsor a bill in Parliament on the abolition of capital punishment. The vote he says will be a free vote, which means that the individual member may vote regardless of his party ties and, should the bill be defeated, it would not be considered as a vote of want of confidence in the government.

Such a vote was taken just about a year ago and at that time the present Parliament decisively rejected a private member's bill to abolish the death penalty. Mr. Pearson has no justification for bringing on another vote on the same subject in so short a time.

The criminal code states that the death penalty shall be imposed on persons convicted in this country of capital murder. Neither the former Conservative government nor the present Liberal one has displayed much inclination to abide by the law of the land.

During the Diefenbaker administration 52 out of 66 sentences were commuted to life imprisonment. Since Mr. Pearson took office 25 murderers have been sentenced to death only to have their penalties commuted to life imprisonment. Five of these commutations have occurred since the government was given clear directions by Parliament that the death penalty was to be retained. This is shocking and inexcusable government conduct. It constitutes an abuse of the cabinet prerogative of commuting death penalties. Occasions, of course, do arise when extraordinary circumstances dictate that a death penalty should be changed to life imprisonment. But Mr. Pearson has in effect been saying that he and his government can ignore the law of the land because it pleases him to do so.

His government is breaking the law as surely as a thief. It is rendering meaningless those sections of the criminal code which differentiate between capital (premeditated) murder and non-capital (unpremeditated) murder. For the former, the death penalty is directed. For the latter, life imprisonment is ordained.

Instead of announcing its intention to introduce its own legislation for abolition, the government should be abiding by the wishes of Parliament in 1966 and upholding the law of the land. This the government has not been doing.

The result has been a mockery of our courts and of the criminal code. The government, which has been deliberately breaking the laws, now wants legislation which in effect will provide retroactive endorsement of its policy regarding the death penalty over the three and one-half years.

Centennial Nerves Twitch At News Of New York Deal

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It might make nationalistic nerves twitch a bit in Centennial Year, but one of the decisions that most affected Canada's potential for industrial growth during the last 100 years was made in New York.

It saw a group of big-time businessmen from Montreal, Toronto and Hamilton, tucked into the privacy of a high-ceilinged suite in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, wearily agree to blend four scattered iron companies into the Steel Co. of Canada.

The men had gone to New York in 1910 seeking seclusion to study the proposed merger, the brainchild of Max Aitken—soon to become Lord Beaverbrook.

It took them 10 days of hanging heads to reach a decision, but Stelco quickly turned into Canada's first fully integrated steel plant, setting the pattern for future growth in that key segment of the modern economy.

Today Stelco and the three other major steel companies—Algoma, Dominion Foundries and Steel, and Dominion Steel and Coal—are the cornerstone of Canada's manufacturing industry.

Last year they produced 10,000,000 tons of steel—more than enough to run girders around the world three times—worth almost $1,200,000,000.

IT'S KEY INDUSTRY

They employ about 50,000 men, and economists estimate that one worker in six in Canada owes his job directly or indirectly to the steel mills.

The Big Four have assets well in excess of $1,500,000,000 and this year Stelco has committed more than $22,000,000 to further expansion.

More important, however, have been the circles of growth that have spread out of the mills at Hamilton, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Sydney, N.S.

Canada's auto industry, for example, uses more than 700,000 tons of Canadian steel a year.

Appliance manufacturers absorb another 200,000 tons in turning out stoves and refrigerators, while the multi-billion-dollar petroleum industry has been using up to 800,000 tons a year to build pipelines.

While much of this activity could have lived leech-like off the lifeblood of the United States and Europe, there is no doubt that some of the manufacturing now located in Canada would not have been established without a supply of domestic steel.

The mills have directly influenced economic growth in other areas, too, as the companies' interests have spread from blast furnaces to iron mines, transportation, laboratories and the other complexities of an integrated industry.

STARTED IN 1737

With the U.S., they had an interest in developing the vast iron-ore riches of northern Quebec and Labrador.

Dofasco is developing a new mine near Timagami, 60 miles north of North Bay, Ont., in an area that for years had little to live on except the seasonal tourist trade.

All this is a far cry from the crude forge that started smelting iron in the St. Maurice district of Quebec in 1737 to make cooking utensils, plowshares and other simple implements needed by early settlers.

The start of Canada's steel industry generally is credited to a small workshop in Montreal where, in the 1790s, a man named John Bigelow began to turn out nails.

His mill was mechanized to a degree—the nails were clipped from thin iron rods by a horse-powered cutter, but the heads had to be shaped by hand.

By Confederation, almost a score of small forges were operating in the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario. But in 1858 an event occurred which was to lead to quick consolidation of the plants and, eventually, to even quicker growth.

A group of Montreal businessmen—including William Molson of brewing fame and Peter Redpath, the sugar king of the day—established Montreal Rolling Mills Ltd.

Sales in its first year were $250,000, but by expanding its output and diversifying its products these rose to more than $1,500,000 in 25 years, despite an end-of-the-century depression.

Fifty years after it was founded, it was bought by Max Aitken, opening the door to the founding of Stelco.

Thus, shortly after 1900, the basis of Canada's steel industry was formed. The forerunner of Dominion Steel and Coal had been established at Sydney, and American capital had started Algoma Steel at Sault Ste. Marie. Dominion Foundries and Steel had been founded in Hamilton in 1912 by the Sherman family, which still operates the company.

At first, the fledgling industry appeared to receive a breath of life from Sir John A. Macdonald's famous National Policy of protectionism. Behind an effective tariff wall, it grew quickly—but it also grew unevenly, lacking the diversification of products that was marking the expansion of steel in the U.S. and sowing the seeds of future troubles.

An indication of inherent flexibility showed, however, during the First World War when the mills geared quickly to producing artillery shells for the Allies.

Although virtually ignored when hostilities broke out, by the end of the war the industry was producing more than 30 per cent of the shells fired at the Germans.

Ten years later, though, Algoma and the forerunners of Dofasco were in financial trouble.

In 1928 Sir Hubert Holt led a group of Canadian businessmen in taking over the British Empire Steel Corp. from British and American financiers, changed its name to Dominion Steel and Coal and revamped its capital structure.

Sir James Dunn had been quietly buying Algoma bonds for two decades before it went bankrupt in 1932 after failing to pay a coal bill. Named to wind up the company's affairs, he issued common stock instead to bondholders and got the company back on its feet.

The lessons were well learned, although the depression of the 1930s and then the Second World War made the industry slow to implement them. Since the war, however, modernization of plant and diversification of product have been the watchwords.

Success of the programs shows in the industry's import records.

At Confederation, almost 90 per cent of Canada's steel had to be imported. Today, 85 per cent of domestic needs are met by Canadian producers, and about 500,000 tons of steel are exported annually.

Aussies Happy At Oil Campaign

By VINCENT MATTHEWS
Canadian Press Correspondent

MELBOURNE (CP)—Australians now feel they are getting somewhere in their drive to become major oil and natural gas producers.

Two years ago the country's first commercial oil field—at Moonee, Queensland—began producing 8,000 barrels a day. This wasn't much on world standards and provided only two per cent of Australia's oil needs. But it was a start and Australians were proud of it.

Early in April Western Island, off the coast of Western Australia, became Australia's most productive oil field when output came close to 9,000 barrels a day. This rate will rise to 22,000 barrels a day within two years.

But Australia's biggest oil field is expected to be under Bass Strait, the stretch of sea off the Victoria coast. Here, Esso, a subsidiary of Standard Oil, drilling with Australian-owned Broken Hill Proprietary Co., has struck extensive deposits of both oil and natural gas. By 1969, it is expected the gas will be flowing into Melbourne's kitchens and factories and the oil into a huge new refinery to be built near the city.

All this means big money to the Victoria government, which has been struggling for years to balance its budget. Royalties of seven per cent from only part of the natural gas field will bring in $39,350,000—$48,000,000 Canadian—a year to the state.

CALLED CANADIAN
When the Bass Strait oil and gas were first discovered, the Victoria government called in Canadian expert D. Charles Hetherington to assess the field's potential. He was enthusiastic and estimated there was enough natural gas beneath the sea bed to supply the whole of southeastern Australia, and between 2,500 million and 10,000 million barrels of oil.

But if all this is exciting news to Australians who have had a heart-breaking time during the last 75 years looking for oil, the giant oil companies are more cautious.

So costly has been Australia's oil search that the government, through its tariff board controls, has boosted the price of locally-produced oil to $1 a barrel more than that of Middle Eastern and Indonesian oil.

All 10 marketing oil companies have to take their share of local oil. These marketing companies have been going through a difficult trading period—both British Petroleum and Shell, for instance, recorded substantial losses last year. But some relief is in sight with an expected increase in the wholesale price of petrol soon.

This won't please the Australian motorist, who can be expected to find the increase passed on to him. But, then, soon the Australian housewife will find her gas bills much lower when she uses natural gas piped from under the sea.

Diet Of Shot Fatal To Ducks

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)

More than 1,500,000 ducks die in Canada each year from eating lead shot scattered by the shotgunners of hunters, a federal government ornithologist said Friday.

Dr. F. C. Coach, research director for Canadian Wildlife Service, said ducks and other birds consume the lethal bird shot as a substitute for gravel and die from the resulting poisoning.

He told the Ontario Humane Society convention that research now is underway to develop a non-lead, non-toxic shot which will make "all existing shotguns obsolete."

Funds Set Up For Students

MONTREAL (CP)—A scholarship fund set up by Dominion Textile Co. will enable 12 young Canadians to start university courses this fall.

The awards will range up to $1,200, depending on such factors as cost of tuition, books, equipment and living allowances if necessary.

Children of company employees or pensioners whose families living in areas where company plants operate may apply. Winners will be chosen by a group of Quebec educationists.

Details are available from high school principals, the personal officers of the company's plants or the selection committee, PO Box 955, Station B, Montreal 2.

A student may apply for tuition at any recognized Canadian university. Preference is given to arts, science, commerce and engineering courses.

Closure Of Beaches

(Penticton Herald)

When the city bylaw planned to govern public beach activities in the early morning hours is passed one more infringement on the freedom of movement of citizens will be added. Beaches will be off-limits between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m.

While we can sympathize with the city fathers and appreciate the concern they feel over misuses and abuses of the beaches by an undesirable element during the tourist season, we feel that a curfew is an unnecessarily severe price to pay.

The beaches on Okanagan and Skaha lakes should remain open 24 hours a day and those who are guilty of creating disturbances or in any way damaging the good name of Penticton as a tourist centre should be dealt with by the law.

Should new laws be required to protect citizens residing in or visiting Penticton then by all means let the new laws be written and enforced. But to deny the majority—who are law-abiding citizens—the use of beaches, or parks and playgrounds, in an attempt to curtail the undesirable activities of a small minority is unfair.

We are fully aware that the local police force is sorely pressed during tourist season when the population doubles, trebles and at times quadruples. But with passage of the proposed bylaw, law enforcement officers will be required to patrol the beaches between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. to make the bylaw meaningful.

It would appear reasonable that as the beaches would have to be patrolled to enforce the bylaw the same patrolmen could be used to enforce existing, or new laws with the same basic effect. And the non-offending public who choose to use the beaches between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. for recreation could continue to do so without fear of arrest.

One good thing about the proposed bylaw is that the public will now be aware that city council and the police are faced with a problem each year. Transients (as opposed to tourists) use the beaches as their living room and bedroom. These people and their activities are undesirable.

Consequently, fullest possible protection is constantly required to retain the good name of Penticton and to prevent the city from becoming a hoodlum-hangout.

But total closure of the beaches, even for four hours, is a punishment which does not really fit the crime.

can't take the tickets home to await the shower of gold from the Florida heavens, this hope seems forlorn.

Homefolk, as New Hampshire has found, just won't make the sweepstakes worthwhile. That state has earned only $7,000,000 so far and the take is falling.

If normal reasons are not enough to discourage supporting schools by such means, the legalities and economics of it should provide the clincher.

Sweepstake Law

(Miami Herald)

Floridians who eye a sweepstakes as one possible solution to tax needs will get a jolt from a recent United States Supreme Court ruling in a New Hampshire case.

Persons who buy sweepstakes tickets, says the court, violate Federal law if they carry them across state lines.

One argument for legalizing a Florida sweepstakes is that tourists will contribute the major slice. If they

Dandruff Is Treated Never 'Washed Off'

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner:

Please explain how a person can have oily hair and still have dandruff. Please describe methods of keeping the scalp free from white scale and itching.

MRS. B.G.

Oiliness has nothing to do with preventing dermatitis—that is, skin disease.

And that is the nub of the dandruff problem. People assume that dandruff is something that ought to "wash off," instead of regarding it as what it is: skin disease.

An occasional white speck doesn't mean dandruff. We are constantly shedding our skins, very slowly of course, but as the outer surface becomes dry, tiny bits will flake off. Friction and washing remove it from most of the body but the scalp, protected by the hair, often accumulates a few bits big enough to notice.

Real dandruff is another matter. Seborrheic dermatitis is at work. If it were on a part of the body that we could see, we would realize that something was wrong and required medical attention.

A mild case of dandruff, like a mild skin irritation elsewhere, may clear up of its own accord, or with the help of a germicidal shampoo. Rubbing the scalp with a cotton pad soaked in rubbing alcohol may control the mild case of dandruff.

But when it is severe and continues, trying to treat it yourself is as futile as trying to treat a severe skin disease elsewhere. The smart thing then is to go to a dermatologist (skin specialist). The usual result is clearing up the trouble promptly instead of wasting a lot of time with hit-or-miss remedies, meantime brushing the white stuff off your shoulders.

Or, if it is psoriasis, for which no dependable cure is known, you can at least get some effective relief for itching and then hope that the psoriasis will clear up spontaneously, as it sometimes does.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the cause of yeast cells found in a urinalysis? Is it serious? Is some disease the cause?—MRS. J.A.

This is usually a matter of contamination from a yeast infection of the vaginal tract; that is, a form of vaginitis.

This is extremely common, and while not dangerous, can be annoying as well as difficult to subdue. We usually think of "infection" tion" in the sense of bacteria which cause disease, but there are other microscopic organisms which can infect the body. Fungi causing athlete's foot are an example.

There are other organisms which, if they invade the vagina, can flourish and be irritating. Some of these are yeasts. Diabetes should always be considered in infections of this sort.

Dear Dr. Molner: I injured my back last year and the doctor told me to get a steel back brace. I try to wear it but it gets on my nerves so badly.

The doctor said I have a ruptured disc and another disc chipped and if I don't wear the brace it could collapse. He says surgery is the only thing that can help a ruptured disc.

What is your idea on that?—MRS. O.M.

My advice, based on specialists in that problem, is to be sure surgery is necessary, but if it is, have it done. The doctor who has examined you is far the best qualified to know your condition. You can't stand the brace, and are in danger without it. I think that leaves one obvious answer: surgery.

The U.S. squadron in the Pacific, under Commodore George Dewey, annihilated the Spanish fleet 68 years ago today—in 1898—at the battle of Manila Bay during the Spanish-American War. All seven Spanish ships were sunk (with 167 killed and 214 wounded) for a cost of seven U.S. sailors wounded. Dewey called off the battle after two hours to give his men breakfast before mopping up the survivors.

Second World War

By BOB BOWMAN

Many people on the Prairies have endured hard times over the years, but they have had a lot of fun too, including winning the Grey Cup last year. May 1 provides an opportunity to tell some stories about their "going on". During the First World War it was decided to tackle an additional enemy at home: the gophers. In 1917 the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture estimated that gophers were destroying a quarter of a million acres of wheat every year, and it was time to declare war on them.

"Gopher Day" was May 1, and an army of children from 880 schools went into the fields to do battle. The gophers suffered 500,000 casualties and the children, like the men overseas, were awarded medals. A gold watch was awarded to the highest scorer.

Then on May 1, 1921, many people in Alberta and Saskatchewan combined in a startling experiment. They were members of the United Agricultural Association and engaged Charles M. Hatfield of California to produce enough rain for the crops that summer. Hatfield was supposed to be a "rain-making wizard" and his terms were $4,000 per inch for half the rain that would fall between May 1 to August 1.

Hatfield built a 20-foot tower near Chaplin Lake, and poured secret chemicals into a vat on top. The every action was watched through glass panes by hundreds of people who spied from the surrounding hills. The first rain fell on May 11. In fact there was a little too much rain, and people began to worry.

June was different and it became necessary to support Hatfield with prayer meetings which had the desired effect when nearly an inch of rain fell at the end of the month. July was another difficult month, and Hatfield was so relieved when a beautiful rain came that he accepted $5,000 for his services, and rejected an offer of $10,000 to go to Swift Current the following year.

The chief of the Dominion Meteorological Bureau in Ottawa said that the experiment was "the most absurd thing ever perpetrated in the West". The average rainfall in the Medicine Hat area had been 6.22 inches for 37 years. The members of the United Agricultural Association didn't care. They got their rain and had a lot of fun as well!

Bouquet To Music Canadiana An Elementary School First

By FLORA EVANS

Congratulations to the Elementary School students of Kelowna and District on their presentation of Music Canadiana. Presented to capacity audiences at the Kelowna Community Theatre on Friday and Saturday evening, this first co-operative effort of the Elementary Schools to be presented at a theatre told Canada's story through folk songs and dancing from the early days before the pale faces arrived up to modern times.

A special bouquet should go to Mrs. Pearl Slater of the Glenmore School, who not only wrote the narrative and produced the presentation, but also accompanied the performers during the first part of the program. She and the hard working teachers, who must have spent many long extra-curricular hours rehearsing the students to obtain such excellent result did a wonderful job.

The narrative told by Patty Jenich and Janice Fournier in first part, and David Robson and Tom Allen in the second—all Glenmore Elementary students—touched on the highlights of Canada's development through the years and was clearly and well narrated.

Elementary School Music Supervisor Garfield McKinley, opened the program following an interlude of guitar music by Ray Friesen. He welcomed the audience and introduced Mrs. Slater, and the program proceeded at an almost professional tempo without hitch or delay.

PART I

The first number on the program was Before the White Man in which the Westbank, Lakeview and Peachland

Elementary students in colorful authentic costumes sang an Iroquois Lullaby and Tsimshian Song followed by an Eskimo Weather Chant sung by the Dorothea Walker and South Kelowna Elementary students.

The Discovery of Canada featured sea chanteys by the Martin Avenue and Bankhead students, French songs by the Glenmore students, and a charming Breton Dance by the students of the Canadian School of Ballet.

The coming of the British was highlighted by the Highland Dancing of the pupils of Miss Mary Moore; the Revolutionary Tea sung and acted by the Raymer, Mission Creek and East Elementary students; a square dance by the L. S. Matheson students, and a Farewell to McKenzie beautifully sung by Rory O'Donnell. The Indian Lament sung by Winfield and Wood Lake students concluding the first part of the program was followed by the Maple Leaf Forever sung by an ensemble of the schools.

Following the intermission the Rutland Elementary Beginning Band students played Dvorak's New World Symphony under the baton of Ray Friesen.

PART II

The second part of the program began with a scene from Canada's West featuring the Old Chisholm Trail, The Klondike Gold Rush and Pork and Beans and Hard Tack presented by the Rutland Elementary students with color and humor against a background scene from a small Western town.

Canada as a World Power featured Over There, Mademoiselle from Armentieres, Red River Valley, Sitting on Top of the World, Side by Side, Carry On, This Land is Your Land and We Call it Canada, and offered some excellent and most amusing dancing and mime by the Central Elementary Students.

In Canada Today, Modern Canada was beautifully expressed in a dance by Kathy Edwards of Central Elementary; The Centennial Song was sung by students of Kelowna and District, and O Canada was played by the Rutland Elementary School Band in which the audience joined.

For this final part of the program Kelowna and District students were grouped on steps arranged at either side of the big stage and carried the singing. Bright colored banners were draped in the background and the show was truly brought to its conclusion with a swing.

A grey background curtain formed the setting for the clever posters, stage placards and scenery, designed by Mrs. Hare and James Veitch, which were both colorful and amusing.

A boat was lent by the Royal Canadian Navy Cadets for the fishermen's scene, the North Glenmore School produced a marvelous birthday cake lit with a hundred sparklers for the Centennial Song, and R. Greening, of the Bankhead School provided the flags. I would like to mention every one of those unsung heroes and heroines who worked behind the scenes to make the show a success, but time and space do not allow. At least I can salute them all on the wonderful co-operation that must have gone into the very successful production.

The enthusiastic audience enjoyed every minute of the performance, and on leaving the theatre nothing but praise, uttered with warm smiles, could be heard from the friends, parents and brothers and sisters of the students who filled the theatre. Well done Elementary Schools.

GLASSES AND SANDALS

"Mad Mod Mood" is a look; a free, casual way of dress; a frame of mind. Now it's the name of Foster Grant's new line of sunglasses. Taking their cue from the Pop, Op, dols, checks and zigzags now in fashion, the new Mad Mod

Moods are seen here in dramatic black and white zebra stripes. Mod has also come to mean "mini". Mini skirts, pants suits and even swinging fringed handbags are part of today's young wardrobe. So, for casual, warm weather dress, our model wears mini-culottes and to complement them, she chose Bass Sunjuns smart, comfortable thong sandals. The combination of sunglasses and sandals play the casual tune here.

East Kelowna WI Sponsors Successful Plant Sale And Tea

Members of the East Kelowna Women's Institute sponsored the Annual Plant Sale held in the Community Hall on April 28.

In charge of the fine display of plants, shrubs, bulbs and flowers was Mrs. W. H. Dumbelton, who was assisted by Mrs. Ivy Fairweather and Mrs. Oliver Jackson.

The home baking table, with Mrs. George Davidson and Mrs. F. E. Riches in charge, offered every type of bread, cakes, pies and cookies, and the table of novelties in charge of Mrs. William Hince was very attractive.

A delicious afternoon tea was served by Mrs. G. A. Macdonnell and Mrs. A. W. Rogers and Mrs. David Evans was in charge of the raffle, which was won by Mrs. Oliver Jackson.

This annual event is always well attended and greatly enjoyed by the East Kelowna residents, who not only stock up on the plants and goodies for sale, but greatly enjoy chatting together at the little tea tables set up on the hall stage after their shopping is done.

ANN LANDERS

Viking Funeral Would Be Illegal

Dear Ann Landers: My great uncle is 84 years old. Up until last year he was in very good health. Recently his health has been failing. Last week uncle told us he plans to revise his will. We were shocked at what he wants in it. Uncle insists on having a Viking funeral. I did not know what a Viking funeral was until he explained it. The dead person is put into a boat, the boat is set afire and shoved out to the sea.

Uncle explained that this would not be against the law as the piece of property he owns has a lake on it. The lake could be used instead of the sea.

According to uncle, the authorities have no say about what happens on private property. I think this is a rather romantic way to go. The rest of the family is appalled. Do you feel we should let uncle have his wish? —SPOKESMAN FOR THE RELATIVES

Dear Spokesman: It is not up to me to decide. Your state has burial laws and I know of no state which would permit a Viking funeral—even on a privately owned lake.

Dear Ann Landers: I agree completely with your praise of individuals who are married to a wheelchair invalid. Now may I add a word of praise to those who are married to another kind of cripple, the cripple whose incapacitation often cannot be seen, for it is emotional instead of physical.

The unsung heroes and heroines in my book are those who are married to life's losers—the severe neurotics, the alcoholics, the hypochondriacs, the brain failures, the weak sisters. What strength and dignity is required to hold up one's head, and make no apologies for a stumbling mate. I have seen such people and my heart goes out to them. One cannot say, "You are noble. You are brave. I admire you." One can only write a letter to Ann Landers and hope the right people see it. Thank you for allowing me to speak my mind —NO BARGAIN MYSELF

Gerry Klebiski went the distance for Montie's giving up seven hits. He struck out five, but walked three and hit one batter. His mates made two costly errors.

Jack Knoohuizen had three hits for the winners. Gene Weninger and Daryl Fox stroked doubles for the losers.

Teamsters Tie Still First

Kelowna Teamsters increased their first-place lead in the Okanagan Valley Soccer League to two points Sunday in spite of a 1-1 tie against Peniticon.

Kamloops Balcos snapped a three-game losing streak beating Vernon National Royalties 4-2. Vernon and Kamloops now share second place in the league with 14 points each.

Near the 20-minute mark, Louciano Zol scored on a hard, 15-foot blast for an early Teamster lead. But, in the second half, Peniticon's Bir Pal scored on a penalty shot to secure the tie.

In Vernon the Balcos got two goals from Pino Costantini. Other scorers for Kamloops were Don Hutton with his seventh of the year and John Leach.

Royals Wallop Willows, Rutland Wins In Openers

Royal Anne Royals scored six runs in the fifth inning and beat the Willow Inn Willows 11-5 in the Kelowna and District Softball League opener at King's Stadium Sunday.

The Royals collected 11 hits including a second inning homer by shortstop Ed Sehn as they bombed three Willow chucks.

The Willows were leading 2-1 going into the fifth and pitcher Jerry Keyes who relieved Larry Yeast in the fourth appeared to be in control of the game.

Royal pitcher Gib Loseth who worked four good innings started the rally with a base hit. Jack Unser followed with another and pinch hitter Ken McCready singled through short driving in one run. Joe Fisher and Ed Sehn hit consecutive doubles and Bob Boyer and Nick Bullock added singles before the Willows retired the side.

Neil Nevil hurled the last five innings for the Royals and was charged with three runs.

Yeast, Keyes and Wally Sehn worked for the Willows with Sehn the most effective of the three.

Ed Sehn was the big hitter for the Royals with a single, double and a homer—all to the opposite field. Joe Fisher chipped in with two safeties.

Jan Angus accounted for two of the six Willow hits.

In Rutland, a last ditch rally by Kelowna Carlings fell short as the Molson's Rovers edged the Carlings 7-6. Arnie Rath went the distance for the win. At one point, he was coasting with a 7-0 lead.

The game was called after eight innings on account of darkness. Don Schmidt was the loser.

We've Been Down Before But Come Back-Royals Hope

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—"We've been down three games before and came back," said coach Bob Fenton, after his New Westminster Royals dropped a 6-2 decision Sunday to Port Arthur Marrs. They now trail the best-of-seven western Memorial Cup finals three games to one.

"And I still think we're good enough to win it all," Fenton said.

"We are a bit weary after just getting back home from three games at Port Arthur, following two games in Saskatoon and two in Edmonton in the last couple of weeks."

Fenton said his club was tired, and it was "slow reacting in every department" in Sunday's fourth game.

"We couldn't clear the puck in our own end. We couldn't forcecheck, and we were not getting our shots away in time."

He was particularly critical of bad clearing plays which resulted in three Port Arthur goals.

Chuck Kehler, Tim McCormack and Ray Adduono, Port Arthur's newly formed line, again led the Marrs. McCormack scored twice, Kehler once.

Leafs Are Avid Movie Fans Make Scene Beating Habs

MONTREAL (CP)—Every time his Toronto Maple Leafs were trounced during the regular National Hockey League season, Coach Punch Imlach would trot out films of the game and threaten to make his players watch them.

He rarely went through with it.

But when the Leafs lost 6-2 on home ice to Montreal Canadiens in the fourth game of their best-of-seven Stanley Cup final, Imlach made them sit for a film viewing of their defeat.

"A picture is worth a 1,000 words, isn't it?" Imlach said after the Leafs defeated the Canadiens 4-1 Saturday at Montreal to take a 3-2 lead in the series.

The sixth game is in Toronto Tuesday with the seventh, if necessary, here Thursday.

The Leafs, who showed little checking ability in Thursday's 6-2 loss, beat Montreal with hard hitting and strong forechecking.

Right-winger Jim Pappin, with his sixth playoff goal, rookie Brian Conacher and Dave Keon, each with their third, and defenceman Marcel Pronovost with his first, were the Toronto goal-getters.

DAVE KEON . . . strong game

MARCEL PRONOVOST . . . solid defender

Leon Rochefort scored for Montreal.

Terry Sawchuk, the Leafs' veteran netminder, was a dominant figure, stopping 37 shots. Hero of Toronto's semi-finals victory over Chicago Black Hawks, Sawchuk was called in Thursday to replace veteran Johnny Bower.

Bower, injured in Thursday's pre-game warmup, is unlikely to return to action.

Montreal's rookie goaltender, Rogatien Vachon, a standout in the playoffs, was replaced by veteran Gump Worsley at the start of the third period Saturday.

day after allowing all four Toronto goals. Worsley, who hadn't played since March 12, was in only 18 games during the regular season.

"I was a little nervous," Worsley said. "In a situation like that, you're always afraid that you'll miss the first easy shot that comes to you."

Montreal coach, Toe Blake didn't blame Vachon for the loss.

"We gave the puck away all through the game and then just stood around and watched the Leafs put it in the net," Blake said.

Rochefort beat Sawchuk at 6:03 of the first period with a slapshot from the faceoff circle.

Pappin tied the score at 13:06, beating Vachon with a low shot from the blueline while Montreal's Claude Larose was sitting out a boarding penalty.

The goal appeared to take the starch out of the Canadiens, who had been out-hustling and out-playing the Leafs to that point.

ROOKIE POTS WINNER

Conacher scored the winner at 3:07 of the second period, converting Red Kelly's rebound into the Montreal net.

Pronovost made it 3-1, grabbing a loose puck in front of the Toronto bench at centre ice and lumbering down the left side to beat Vachon with a low, hard drive.

Keon scored the final goal late in the second period, picking up Kelly's rebound and flipping it into the open side of the net before Vachon could recover from the first shot.

Blake admitted the Leafs were infallible. "I tried everything. Nothing seemed to help," he said.

But Blake had a final parting word for reporters: "We'll be back here next Thursday."

They Only Tuned Up But Crowds Came to See

By RON ALLERTON

Stock car racing fans are an anxious bunch.

Although the official opening of the Billy Foster Memorial Speedway is three weeks away several hundred motorsport fans were at the track Sunday to watch more than a dozen drivers test the track.

Activities were confined to practicing and will be again next Sunday, with racing due to start May 14, eight days before the official opening of B.C.'s newest paved racing complex.

The quarter-mile track, five miles south of the Okanagan Lake bridge, on the east side of Highway 97, was named after Victoria driver Billy Foster, who was killed in Riverside, Calif., in January while practicing for the Motor Trend 500.

The track is one of only three paved circuits in the Interior. Langley has a three-eighths mile track and Prince George a half-mile oval. Drivers from both tracks are expected to attend the Foster Speedway opening on the holiday Monday this month.

Many of the cars on the track Sunday were without numbers and some of the drivers appeared happy to be unidentified, as they had trouble with the corners on their first runs.

Many cars spun out and there were a couple of bumps, as drivers pushed perhaps a bit too hard.

But the noise drew more people than expected and indicated stock car racing is in for a successful year, only the second since racing ended 11 years ago on the old dirt track at the base of Knox Mountain.

Track operators and officials of the Kelowna Stock Car Club won't be surprised to see between 2,500 and 3,000 people on opening day.

Such a crowd won't be disappointed.

All the veteran drivers from last year's racing at the Kel-Win Speedway are expected back, along with many newcomers.

Unlike last season drivers will be competing in two classes, early late stocks and modified cars.

Some of the big names got their first look at the new track Sunday.

Don Smith, driving U-2, the old Jack Toroff car, should be tough once he masters the modified vehicle.

Lyle "The Viking" Hickson, the Vernon driver who had things pretty much his own way at Kel-Win, has a new motor in his car and it's running so quietly the other drivers won't even be able to hear him catching them.

TOUGH ROOKIES

Pete Smirle will be back in a new modified car, although it will still carry the familiar orange paint job and number 15.

Neil Roth showed Sunday he is ready to shun his rookie tag and move into the veteran driver class. Pushing his number 22 hard at times, he spun more often than anyone else, but he'll be tough when the green flag drops for the first time.

Many other drivers are still busy in their shops, timing their completion for the opening weekend.

Club officials hope for as many as 40 cars in the two classes, about 20 in each. If anything it appears there will be slightly more of the speedy modified cars.

Speeds have already reached 70 m.p.h. on the straights and as drivers become more familiar with the track they should push 80 m.p.h.

The corners should provide much excitement, as they become slick with rubber under the hot Okanagan sun.

Racing fans will see a minimum of eight races each Sunday.

Tory Aspirants Asked To Speak

VANCOUVER (CP) — Malcolm Wickson, president of the B.C. Progressive Conservative Association, said Sunday he plans to invite all contenders for the national party leadership to speak in B.C. before the leadership convention in the fall.

Speaking at the close of a two-day provincial executive meeting, Mr. Wickson said no discussions of B.C. leadership, however, will be held until after the federal leadership convention in Ottawa.

The leadership has been vacant since E. David Fulton resigned and returned to federal politics in 1965. Party officials were hopeful a new provincial leader would be named by the end of the year.

Bill Macadam, national party vice-president, told the meeting the national leadership convention committee will meet in this province — probably here — to complete arrangements for pre-convention policy meetings.

Centennial 4000 Car Rally Makes First Stop Here Wednesday

Rally organizer Jim Gunn said Monday this year's centennial 4000 will be the toughest and longest in the event's seven-year history.

"In addition to the rally being 500 miles and two days longer," Gunn said, "spring is late this year right across Canada and many roads planned for our centennial rally are treacherous."

"In some cases," he added, "we may have to abandon the planned route for main highways."

The long-range weather forecast for the Vancouver-to-Montreal rally, May 3-10, bears out Gunn's prediction. Generally, temperatures in B.C. and Alberta will be well below normal, adding ice to the problems the competitors will face.

Scattered snow flurries are expected over much of this part of the rally.

BETTER ON PRAIRIES

Conditions may improve in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, but not much. Temperatures should be normal but precipitation will be heavy. This could mean snow.

In Ontario and Quebec, those cars surviving the test that far, will be confronted with above-normal temperatures and normal rainfall. Roughly translated, this means mud.

In a nutshell, if the forecast holds up, competitors in this year's centennial rally can look forward to ice, snow and gumbies in that order.

Twelve speed tests at various points along the route will add to the obstacles of the rally, Gunn concluded.

Highway Minister Gagliardi will wave off the first of 100 starters at 9:30 a.m. from Queen Elizabeth Theatre, Wednesday.

ANITA TAYLOR
... from England

ROSEMARY SMITH
... from Ireland

The first stop at Kelowna Wednesday at 7 p.m. will be followed by Red Deer, Saskatoon, Brandon, Fort William, North Bay, Kingston and Montreal.

B.C. ENTRIES

Sixteen cars from British Columbia will be among the nearly 100 entries in the rally which leave Vancouver Wednesday.

The finish ceremonies to the grueling eight-day, 4,500 mile grind across Canada through all kinds of weather and road conditions will take place in the Expo Autostade, and will be the first international sports event of Expo 87.

From Kelowna are the father and son team of Eugene and Juergen Krehbiel in a Fiat 850 and Phil Ramage of Kelowna.

and Searle Sheldon of Vernon in a Lotus Cortina.

Two women who design their own clothes and believe that make-up is important on the road meet Canada's top woman rallyist. One will become, unofficially, the world's No. 1 woman rallyist.

Rosemary Smith of Dublin.

Spurs In Allan Cup

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Spurs advanced to the Allan Cup finals by defeating Nelson Maple Leafs 7-6 in overtime Saturday, winning the Western Canadian Senior Hockey championship finals 3-0.

Calgary's Warren Hicks scored the winning goal at 3:18 of the overtime period, giving Spurs the best-of-five series.

Spurs now meet Drummondville, Que., Wednesday for the Allan Cup.

The win Saturday followed two Calgary victories at Nelson, last weekend.

Although Nelson's strength during the series had been cut by players away writing university final exams, the club twice Saturday managed to come from two-goal deficits to tie Calgary.

Spurs were led by two-goal performances from Marty Desmarais and John Ivanitz. Dave Parenteau, Ken Cairns and Hicks scored one goal each.

Scorers for Nelson, Western International Hockey League champions, were Garry McQuaid, with two, and Don Borgeson, Rod Collin, Gail Holden and Corky Agar.

Both clubs changed netminders on-the-fly in the second period. Calgary starter Bobby Taylor was substituted for veteran Dave Butts after a run by Nelson gave Leafs a 4-3 lead.

Three minutes later, Leafs' starting goaltender, Bill McDonnell, was pulled in favor of Don Holmes after Calgary had scored two goals in 23 seconds.

Even No Hitters Aren't Enough In Frantic Junior Circuit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Steve Barber and Stu Miller of Baltimore Orioles Sunday became the first pitching pair in baseball history to hurl a no-hitter and lose in nine innings.

Barber did the bulk of the work, holding Detroit Tigers hitless for 8 2-3 innings—but walking 10 Tigers.

After the last one, manager Hank Bauer, called in Miller, who preserved the no-hitter but not the victory as the Tigers scored on Mark Belanger's error and won the first game of the doubleheader 2-1.

The Tigers' first run, also scored in the ninth inning, came after a wild pitch—minutes after Barber issued his eighth and ninth walks and just before he recorded No. 10.

All three girls believe that, since motor sport is usually considered a male domain, girls who compete must never forget they are female.

Winner Won't Take All Home

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

There isn't much about Los Angeles Dodgers that is the same as in past years, but San Francisco Giants are hardly in a position to complain.

About the only person the Giants recognize among the current Dodgers is pitcher Don Drysdale, and lately he's become a welcome sight, having lost his last seven starts against San Francisco, including a 5-1 decision Sunday night.

It was the 10th loss in 16 starts for the Dodgers and left them in eighth place in the National League standings. San Francisco's first three-game sweep of the season allowed them to slip past Los Angeles into seventh place. The Giants won 5-0 Saturday and 5-4 Friday.

Missing from the Dodgers since last season are pitching ace Sandy Koufax, who retired, Maury Wills and Tommy Davis, who were traded, and Lou Johnson and Willie Davis, who have been injured.

While Bob Bolin and reliever Frank Linzy combined for a three-hitter for the slow-starting Giants, league-leading Cincinnati Reds divided a doubleheader with New York Mets and moved 3½ games up on second-place St. Louis Cardinals.

The Reds, beaten 2-0 by Don Cardwell's three-hitter in the opener, took the second game 3-2 behind rookie Gary Nolan. The Cardinals bowed to Pittsburgh Pirates 2-0 as Juan Pizarro fired a four-hitter and his catcher, Jerry May, drove in both runs with a homer and single.

Philadelphia Phillies split a twin bill with Atlanta Braves, winning 6-4 before falling 6-3 in the nightcap, and rookie Rich Nye's four-hitter led Chicago Cubs past Houston Astros 4-1.

Saturday the Reds blanked the Mets 7-0, the Braves shaded the Phils 3-2, the Cubs beat the Astros 4-1 and Pittsburgh was rained out at St. Louis.
